Chamber requests increased funding from supervisors

BY AMY PICKICH
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce director Cindy Vernon requested an increase in funding from the county at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors workshop on Thursday.
Vernon said that higher dues and increased membership has helped, but was not adequate to operate effectively.
She said she has asked for other municipal funds, but approached the board because the chamber has not asked the board for increased funding in three years. The county presently gives the chamber $22,914 a year.

"I have taken it upon myself to make a concentrated effort to include all of Hancock County, not just Bay St. Louis and not just Waveland," Vernon said about her efforts to promote the two cities. "...and being a non-profit organization, it is hard to survive without municipal funds."
"With the amount of inquiries coming in (to the chamber), we cannot survive on present funding," Vernon said.
The board commended Vernon for her work at the chamber and agreed to look over the budget to find available funds,

Bay Flag Memorial Drive underway

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
A Bay Flag Memorial Drive is underway in Bay St. Louis.
The drive is co-sponsored by the City of Bay St. Louis, Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139, Bay-Waveland Elks Club and Veterans of Foreign Wars.
Gene Schloegel, a member of the three organizations and resident of Bay St. Louis, is spearheading the drive.

Schloegel said, "The main object is to provide 90 American, 50 state and 40 Mississippi flags to be displayed on the new light poles along Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis for special occasions and holidays."
"The display of the American flags will symbolize the resi-

World Youth Day

St. Paul teens share experiences

BY AMY PICKICH
As thousands of youths from 70 countries traveled to Denver to see Pope John Paul II for World Youth Day 1993, Father Ron Herzog and a youth group from St. Paul Catholic Church joined the pilgrimage.
Several members of the group from Pass Christian shared their experiences after mass on Tuesday at the St. Paul rectory.
Excitement and tears filled the stadium as they sang, prayed and watched the Pope pass in his 'Popemobile' about 26 rows from where they were sitting.

Group members, who brought back many souvenirs and pictures, agreed that the most exciting part was the papal welcome on Thursday in Mile High Stadium.
Jennifer Myers said she came home with about 10 rosaries.
Julie Ryan said that the Pope prayed and addressed other people from other countries in their different languages, but that the mass was easy to understand because most of it was in English.

"There was so much energy in Mile High Stadium," said Myers. "...everyone was singing, dancing, praying and holding hands, even crying."
Myers said she liked the way everyone in the stadium prayed the Nicene Creed together, then stood and held hands to pray the Our Father.
"I felt renewed by the whole experience," said Matt Holder, who especially enjoyed the exhibit of Veronica's Veil.
Ryan said that the language barrier was not a prob-

MDOT awards $84,050 bid to move Waveland gas line

BY LIZ HAAS
The Mississippi Department of Transportation awarded a $84,050 bid to relocate Waveland's gas pipeline that is interfering with the four-laning of Highway 603, according to David Foster, MDOT's project engineer.
The bid was awarded to South Central Construction Inc. of Prentiss, Miss. Foster said moving of about 7,000 feet of high-pressure gas pipeline will start next week.
"This has caused a scheduling problem and with the line removed, it will free up that area so that the contractor can get in there to work," said Foster.
The City of Waveland owns the line and is responsible for its maintenance and operation as part of its public utility system.
In July, the city entered into an agreed order authorizing the department to relocate the lines in the most economical way and to have other issues tried at a later date.
The Mississippi Transportation Commission has filed a lawsuit against the City of Waveland to pay for the removal of the line.
"We filed a lawsuit in the Hancock County Chancery Court for declaratory and injunctive relief asking the court to let us move the line that was hindering our ability to complete the project," said Stewart Smith, attorney for the MTC.

Smith said the suit alleges the city is responsible for any costs associated with the moving of that pipeline.
"Whether or not the city has to pay us will be decided in court at a later date," he said.
Smith said the MTC claims the city will have to pay for the moving of the line.
The City of Waveland has not taken a legal position on the matter.
MDOT is widening 603 into a four-lane highway from Stennis field to Highway 90 to accommodate increased traffic.

Foster said the Waveland lines have not been the only delay in the 603 project.
"With this being the rainy season the weather has also delayed our progress," said Foster.
"However, we've made good progress since the rain let up," he said.
The contractor, according to Foster, is close to being on

Boyce's probation revoked

On Friday James Boyce, 57, of Diamondhead, who was arrested Tuesday by the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics for parole violation, was sentenced to five years in state prison for probation violation on previous drug charges.
Boyce, who allegedly told AIDS, cancer and multiple sclerosis patients he could cure them, was sentenced by Gulfport Circuit Court Judge James Thomas after pleading guilty to breaking his parole.
Boyce was indicted in 1990, while running a diet clinic in Bay St. Louis, for prescription forgery by fraud and possession with the intent to distribute.
In February of this year, he pled guilty to one count of obtaining and one count of possession of a controlled substance. He was given 30 months nonadjudicated probation.
A special condition of his probation was that he was prohibited from any association with any medical or medically related clinic or other medical or medically related business or enterprise.
Boyce opened his Diamondhead clinic, then called Natural Options and recently changed to Hyberbarics Mfg. Co., this Spring.
Agents from the Criminal Investigation Division of the Food and Drug Administration seized records and equipment from his home and office after obtaining search warrants Tuesday.
The FDA, which has not filed charges yet, will have its case handled by the U.S. Attorney's Office in Biloxi.

It needs must be, since he lingers there.

And you — oh, you, who the wildest yearn

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Our gift to God

It is often said that what you are is God's gift to you, but what you make of yourself is your gift to God.

According to that measure, almost every human being is worse than Scrooge when it comes to giving back to God. That includes you, unless you feel like the lady who responded to me during a homily this summer.

The Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament were celebrating their annual Alumni Day in July. Taking full advantage of the Sunday's Gospel reading from Matthew 13, I reminded them that Jesus speaks of a hundred, sixty or thirtyfold harvest.

"Are you, the fertile ground, cultivating the Good News and giving a hundredfold yield?" I asked them.

"I'm 90 percent!" yelled a lively lady in the second row.

"You're what?" I returned somewhat incredulously.

"I'm 90 percent," repeated the sister with less emphasis, noticing how the attention of all was riveted on her.

"You're 90 percent?" I echoed with considerable admiration.

"I think you are a lot better off than I am."

Never having confronted my own acceptance and implementation of the Good News in terms of numbers or percentages, I hesitated momentarily, then waded in.

"All things considered if truth be told, I think my personal absorption and living of the Good News might possibly reach 30 percent. I feel strongly that it would not approach 60 percent, let alone 90 percent."

By now the semi-embarrassed lady had become the celebrity of the alumni Mass. "You have certainly given me something to shoot at!" I told her. "I honestly believe that you are some 60 percentage points ahead of me."

There is some parallel here with a very crucial part of our minds: the human brain. The most complex and most wonderful of all organisms suffers the constant indignity of being used to only 20 percent, or less, of its capacity.

Can you imagine what intellectual scales we could climb if we figured out a way to use even a simple half of our brain? Without exaggeration, we would be mental world-beaters.

In similar fashion, if we could go from implementing a paltry 30 percent or so of the seeds of the Good News to 60 percent or more, we would be spiritual giants.

If even a simple majority of Christians would take the pains to be such spiritual giants, the resulting flood of faith, good will and good works would overwhelm the world and stand it on its ear.

For the most part, the world is indifferent to the teachings and life of Jesus Christ, and it shows outright defiance in many instances such as decadent family relationships, savage business practices, obscene movies and substance abuse.

"The world" is the greatest force in the world, counting myriad admirers and followers of its immorality, lawlessness, profanity, greed, arrogance and selfishness.

But the world is stronger than any other force only because Christians and other people of good will are not bringing the Good News to a 30 or even 20 percent harvest.

Seriously, is the fertile ground of your life producing anywhere in the neighborhood of 100 percent? Well, 60, or at least 30 percent? Jesus wants to know how high you can go.

included much walking and waiting in line. They even spent one night on the mountain.

Lack of supplies was common, and one member had to seek medical attention. Father Ron said that aside from a few protesters and extenuating circumstances that go along with 370,000 people congested in one area, the group "took it all in stride." "Certainly getting a chance to actually see the Pope, which I had never done before, was a thrilling experience, Herzog said. "But to me, the thing that was so marvelous was to see the shared faith of literally hundreds of thousands of young people."

Bay Mayor Eddie Favre is serving as the general chairman of this drive, which will be completely funded by donations and gifts.

The Bay Flag Memorial Drive is also a part of Bay St. Louis' beautification program and is a community project.

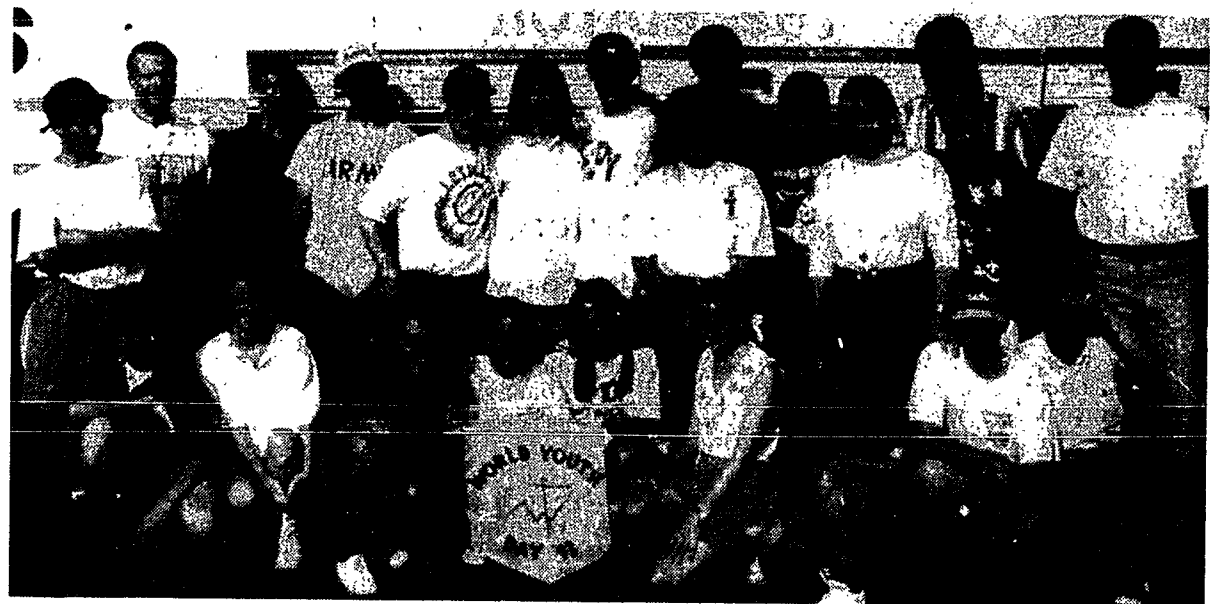

Clubs, youth groups, organizations, schools, churches, businesses, industries, families and individuals are being asked to make a contribution to the drive, Schloegel said.

A gift of a large American flag and pole has already been made to the drive and is to be located at the foot of the Bay St. Louis bridge on U.S. Highway 90.

There will be two special dedication boards to be displayed as Living Memorials, from contributors of $100 or more in donations or gifts to be located at the main flag.

A celebration upon completion of the drive will be marked with a ribbon cutting ceremony and motor parade along the Bay Flag Memorial Drive.

but stated that Vernon's request was made after the budget had been set.

Board president Michael Ladner said that Vernon and the chamber of commerce are "doing a great job," but that he has a hard time increasing funding when other municipalities should be contributing more.

County comptroller Patty Greer presented the board with about $40,000 worth of changes and transfers in payroll to be considered at the next board meeting.

Highway Patrolman David Kenny presented the board with "call back detail," a plan that would increase the number of patrolmen without depleting county funds.

The county would enter a contract with the highway patrol to pay officers to work on some days off. The officers would in turn be required to write at least 11 "hazardous violations" tickets for the city to break even.

Officer Kenny said that the plan has already been implemented in Jackson and Stone counties and could be terminated at any time if it did not work.

He said that with increased traffic and accidents in the county, the plan would be "money making for the city and it will save lives because more patrolmen will be on the road."

The board agreed to discuss the matter further at a future meeting.

In other matters the board met with Lucien Bourgeois, John Morrison, A.L. Franklin, Billy Faye Lyons and Lora Mederos to discuss issues to be brought up at the next board of supervisors meeting on August 31.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

There is a $1,000 reward being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons involved in three structure fires in the Bayou Phillips area on August 17.

It seems there may have been burglary involved, and the fires were a cover-up, according to Fire Marshall Richard Pate.

In addition to the fires being investigated by the local Fire Marshall, the Deputy State Fire Marshall, the Hancock County sheriff's office is also involved.

If you know anything about any of the fires, you could earn $1,000. To give information call the Fire Marshall at 466-4709; or Sheriff's office, 467-5101; or Crimestoppers at 255-6426.

Many who have retired at times find they may have 'time' on their hands with nothing to do.

In Hancock County there are so many worthwhile agencies needing volunteer manpower, some for a single project, others on a regular basis, and hours are very flexible.

These volunteer agencies provide so many services to our community and are greatly appreciated by those using the services.

I know several residents of the area who have been volunteering their services for over 25 years and are still going strong. Then there are others who may have only been in the community for a few months and they are helping some agency on a volunteer basis.

There are many agencies, and I would like at this time to mention a couple.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program, better known as RSVP, is very active in Hancock County and has over 400 volunteers.

RSVP usually slows down a bit in summer within the community on helping with special projects, but not this past summer.

More and more stations are being added by the Hancock County RSVP, so this means more volunteers can be utilized.

Some may be for one-half day and others longer. For further information, give JoAnn Lagasse, RSVP director, a call at 467-9204.

Another very helpful group is the Hancock Medical Center's Pink Ladies.

These ladies do all types of 'extra' services for those in the hospital and even visit the sick.

HMC's Pink Ladies have been around a very long time, and their services mean so much extra to those who are sick.

If you are interested in serving as a Pink Lady at Hancock Medical Center and want more information, give Theresa Bourgeois, president, a call at 467-9081.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Colson disagrees with fellow alderman's comments

Dear Editor:

The citizens of Waveland have a right to know the facts. Several of my constituents have expressed concern that the City of Waveland is a target to create "Headlines for Controversy." Recently I have been questioned by many people about the implication made by a fellow alderman in a letter to the editor concerning Bayou Caddy.

In his letter of explanation as to why he voted against sewer connection for Bayou Caddy he grossly misled the people. I want to put the record straight.

I'm an individual representative of Waveland and I vote on every issue as such. There has been more than one occasion that I have voted in opposition to subject matter presented and lost by the majority, but to discredit the system by altering the facts would be counterproductive.

The information exchanged at the Aug. 3 board meeting is different than was stated in the letter. In response is a point-for-point list of the discussion that was presented to the board.

1. Alderman Weidman commented the people of Waveland will pay with their tax dollars to subsidize the sewer project to connect Bayou Caddy to the Waveland sewer line. This comment is not true. The Bayou Caddy sewer line connect into Waveland will be paid for by the casino at no cost to the people of Waveland. This matter was discussed in great detail.

I questioned the Mayor and the representative for Bayou Caddy as to specifically who would bear the cost. We were assured Waveland would not retain any cost. This is a good deal for Waveland and a very valuable asset of well over $75,000.

2. The comment that no revenues from this establishment will be received is narrow-minded and proves lack of vision.

This local business will in fact generate a new source of sales. The increase of sales by our local establishments will increase the city's tax base similar to the present increase due to Casino Magic.

3. The statement about our need to improve our sewer system availability is also a narrow-minded reference. This project (paid for by others) will in fact make available new areas for sewer development. The line will be available for development for property owners in Waveland. This new creation of revenue will, as mentioned above, make funds available to address some of the city's needs such as sewer and water along Hwy. 90 and other residential areas.

4. The casino will be paying a service charge which will encompass maintenance expense.

5. Alderman Weidman and I addressed the engineer in the meeting about the capacity of the city's sewer system. The engineer explained in great detail that the present capacity of our sewer collection lines would be more than sufficient for future growth of the city as well as the casino.

The alderman making accusations should get his facts right and not attempt to undermine the citizens by non-factual information. The citizens of Waveland should know that Alderman Weidman attempts to distract this alderman by making verbal insults in an undertone manner, again and again. It's getting old.

On the other hand, to be mature and rational is the first prerequisite in representing a community. Alderman Weidman, stop your name calling and let's work at giving Waveland the better representation it deserves.

Here are hints for hurricane preparedness

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in the hope that it may help to inform our folks about some common sense things we can all do before that dreaded "beep-beep" sound, and a scrawling news message interrupts your favorite tv show to tell you we are under a hurricane watch.

Now, I'm sure we all know that we should have a supply of water put aside, canned goods, candles, etc. But, I would like to elaborate on the subject some.

Recently, Jitney Jungle, at my request ordered a supply of Gossner's Milk. This is milk that is supplied in whole milk, 2%, skim, chocolate and strawberry. What's so unusual about this milk?

It's irradiated, comes in a foil-lined cardboard container and needs no refrigeration until opened. It has a shelf life of nine months. And guess what? It tastes good. It's comparable in taste to fresh milk in the dairy case.

Be sure to lay in a supply of it before the rush is on to grab everything in sight, when the dreaded news of a storm is a reality. It's a good idea also to purchase some disposable propane lighters, instead of matches, (which are useless when wet.)

On the list be sure and include packs of "Blue Ice."

"Blue Ice," all purpose packs are vinyl packs of a chemical that provides hours of coolness to keep foods cool, insulin, and can be used for first-aid when an ice pack is called for.

I used the name "Blue Ice," manufactured by Rubbermaid, but other companies manufacture them as well.

Simply place these little packs in the freezer, and take them out when you need them. They can be used over and over. If you are fortunate enough to own a car, you might consider purchasing a KOOL-MATE, which is a refrigeration unit that plugs into your car's cigarette lighter. At last report, they were available at Kmart for $49.97. (Be sure to fill your gas tank.)

I don't believe it's necessary for me to say more about stocking up on food and medicine, because we all know that!

I would however like to tell you that it's unsafe to substitute diesel fuel for lamp oil, as I heard one individual mention. The old-timey oil lamps are indispensable in this area, even when no hurricane threatens. Just thought I'd throw that in.

I'm wishing everyone a safe hurricane season. It's not a question of are we going to have a storm, but when?

Drug-fighting aircraft soon to soar Mississippi skies

"Drug dealers and drug runners beware." The Harrison County Sheriff's Department has added a high-speed, high-performance turbine-powered helicopter to its stable of drug-fighting aircraft, announced U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor.

The $159,000 Hughes OH-6 helicopter, or Loach as its flyers call it, was acquired by Harrison County through the Mississippi Office of Surplus Property and the U.S. Department of Defense's Office for Drug Enforcement, Policy and Support for two-percent of aircraft's estimated value, or $3,100. The defense agency's mission is to direct surplus military equipment to state and local law enforcement agencies to fight the war on drugs.

"Sheriff Joe Price, Harrison County pilot Steve Ford and State Surplus Director Jim Majure should all be commended for their tenacity in getting this copter down to South Mississippi," said Taylor.

"For nearly three years we have all worked together to make sure this recently declared surplus Loach was not sent to an aviation graveyard. Harrison County has an outstanding aviation record and this aircraft will certainly enhance their efforts in fighting the war on drugs in South Mississippi. The aircraft is well deserved."

Cherished by Vietnam era pilots for its maneuverability, Harrison County's new helicopter can be flown single-handedly, unlike comparable aircraft of its size.

"The technology involved in the Loach is of a much higher quality than anything we are now flying, even though the helicopters we now fly were built at the same time," said Ford, the aircraft's designated pilot. "It is a lot more powerful, weighs less, and the engine is considered the safest on the market today. Also, the cost to operate it should be equal to or less than what we have now."

Sheriff Joe Price assured South Mississippians that the helicopter would not be used solely for surveillance over Harrison County skies.

"Our policy has always been to loan our aircraft to law enforcement agencies in need," said Price. "If someone's got a downed plane or is searching for an escaped prisoner, all they have to do is call the Harrison County Sheriff's Department and ask."

Bridge replacement legislation proposed

Special to the Echo
A new program to assist counties and municipalities in replacement and repair of local bridges without a tax increase has been proposed by Representative J. P. Compretta and other lawmakers.

The far-reaching proposal is expected to be introduced at the start of the 1994 legislative session. It calls for the allocation of more than $300 million in state funds over an 11-year period for work on bridges maintained by counties and cities, starting with $16 million in the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 1995.

Compretta, who represents House District 122 in Hancock County, is among more than 55 House members co-sponsoring the measure. Backers said the bill is an effort to deal with a statewide bridge crisis in a reasonable and responsible manner without boosting fuel taxes.

Many local bridges across the state were built in the 1940s and 1950s and badly need repair or replacement, state transportation officials said.

To qualify for assistance under the proposed legislation, bridges would have to be eligible for replacement or rehabilitation as determined by the National Bridge Inspection Standards sufficiency rating and be included on the bridge inventory maintained by the State Aid Road Engineer's office.

A special bridge replacement and rehabilitation fund would be created in the State Treasury with money being made available for distribution to the counties on a project-by-project basis starting July 1, 1995.

Each county would be entitled to a percentage of the available funds based on the number of deficient bridges in the county and number of local-system road miles in the county.

The State Aid Engineer would supervise the use of the funds and certify all projects for which the money is approved. County supervisors would be required to submit a four-year plan of bridge replacement and rehabilitation by January 1 each year, including a detailed list of bridge projects in their counties.

The bill calls for an initial appropriation of $16 million from the state's General Fund for fiscal year 1996 which starts July 1, 1995, increasing to $24 million for Fiscal Year 1997.

An appropriation totaling $32 million would be made for each of the next nine years, FY 1998 through FY 2006.

A similar proposal narrowly failed to win committee approval in the House Ways and Means Committee during the 1993 session.

At present, the State Aid Engineer's office reports there are more than 3,700 local bridges with a sufficiency rating of 50 or less, including approximately 1,400 bridges with a sufficiency rating of only 25 and less. The cost of repairing or replacing these bridges has been estimated at nearly $300 million for those with a 25-or-below rating to about $750 million for bridges with a 50-or-below rating.

SSC drops opener

BY JOSEPH GEX

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws opened their 1993 high school football season Friday with a 35-0 loss to Northeast Jones' Tigers.

Both teams came out fired up and ready to play; however, the game was postponed for 45 minutes due to a severe thunderstorm.

yard run by Rod Keys. The PAT was good by Petara Jones.

SSC's Alex Perez returned the kickoff to the Rock 33 yardline. The Rocks' first play was an 11 yard bullish run by fullback Allen Schaefer. Jeep Mestayer answered that with an 18 yard scamper up the middle. Behind the running of Mestayer and Schaefer, the Rocks' pounded the ball to the Tiger 25 yard east Jones.

Charles Oliver returned the ensuing kickoff to the 25 yardline. The Rocks' went to the air with Nathan Middleton hitting Jason Mayer and Brooks Quinlan for big gains. Behind the passing of Middleton and short gainers on the ground, the Rocks' drove into Tiger territory. They were stopped on a third down run and the Rocks' of the Rocks' hands with the running of Daniel Wood and a 60 yard pass from Ishee to tight end Brent Rustin. However, the Tigers were unable to move the ball and they turned it over on downs.

The Rock-a-chaw offense came out but was unable to move the ball and Schaefer punted. On the return, the Tigers fumbled and the Rocks recovered. The Rocks were unsuccessful in moving the ball and Schaefer punted.

The Tigers took over at their own 46 yardline. Darryl Carter scampered 32 yards into Rock territory. Split end Gabe Gardner scored on a 15 yard pass from Ishee and Jones' PAT was good. With 7:04 remaining in the third quarter the score was 28-0.

With the ensuing kickoff the Rock offense moved the ball. Behind the runs of scatback Jeep Mestayer and Quinlan, the Rocks' moved the ball into Tiger territory with a few first downs. Their drive was thwarted with a Tiger interception returned for a touchdown. Jones' PAT was good. With 6:25 remaining in the third quarter the score was 35-0.

The Rock defense held strong in the remainder of the third quarter. The defense had numerous tackles for losses and kept the Tiger offense out of the endzone.

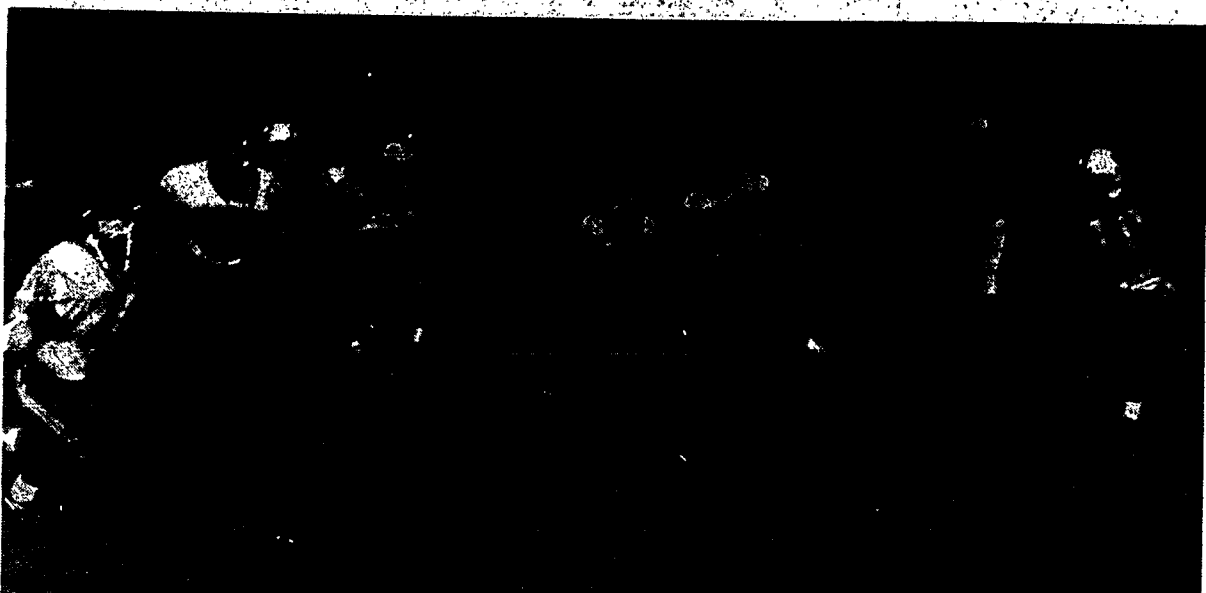

As the middle of the fourth quarter ensued the Rock offense came on to the field with new quarterback, Correy Gex, calling the signals. Fresh tailback Chris Middleton added runs of 7 and 5 yards to gain a first down for the Rocks.

With a new set of downs to work with Gex went to the air. He connected with Jason Mayer for a 21 yard gain and a first down. On the next pass, Gex threw what appeared to be an interception; however, on the return center Gathian Fertitta forced a fumble and the Rocks recovered.

Gex went back to the air and connected with Mayer for a big 30 yard gain and a first down. Gex attempted to hit Neil Heitzmann on the sidelines but his throw was short. The Tigers intercepted the pass and they ran the clock down.

When asked what plagued his team tonight head coach Ken Lyons said, "It was the big play that killed us tonight. Our inconsistent play caused that." He added, "We also committed some stupid penalties. We know the mistakes that we made and now we have to adjust and get ready for Oak Grove next week."

The Rock-a-chaws won the toss and deferred to the second half. They kicked deep into Northeast Jones territory and the Rock-a-chaw defense took the field. On the first play of the game, the Tigers showed their offensive prowess with an off-tackle run of 12 yards by Rod Keys.

The Tigers used the powerful running of Keys and Petara Jones to drive deep into Rock-a-chaw territory. With 8:17 to go in the first quarter, the Tigers scored up the middle with a 5 line. The Rocks' attempted a fourth and short situation and turned the ball over on downs.

The Tigers took time off the clock by keeping the ball on the ground with consistent gains coming from Keys. He drove the Tigers to the Rock-a-chaw 20 yardline where Northeast Jones quarterback Shannon Ishee put the ball in the air. Ishee hit wingback Petara Jones for a 20 yard score and the PAT was good by Jones. With 1:20 remaining in the first quarter the score was 14-0 North-had to punt. Allen Schaefer put the ball inside the 10 yardline and the Tigers took over.

Tiger running back Jamie Jones pulled them out of the hole with a 14 yard scamper up the middle. Then, Northeast Jones wingback Petara Jones took a reverse 73 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. The PAT by Jones was good. With :12 seconds left in the first half the score gave Northeast Jones 21-0 lead.

The first half came to close with Rock-a-chaw deep man Charles Oliver returning the kickoff to the 30 yardline.

The Rock offense started the second half on their own 20 yardline. Mestayer kept the Rocks' going with moderate gains and a first down. He had a run of 23 yards that was nullified by a holding penalty. The Rocks' then handed off to slotback Brooks Quinlan for gains of 14 and 10 yards.

Another great third down stand by Northeast Jones and the Rocks had to punt. Allen Schaefer punted the ball into the endzone and the Tigers took over on their own 20 yardline. The Tigers kept the ball out

JUST MINUTES FROM GULFPORT, MISSISSIPPI ANYWHERE ON THE COAST

Tide edges Tigers 3-0

BY TRACI BONNEY

Although the final score was 3-0 in favor of Picayune, the real winner of Bay High's season opener Friday was the field.

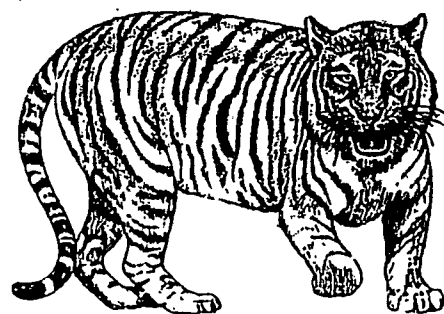

The game's kickoff was delayed some 45 minutes because of rain, a steady, heavy downpour laced with lightning and punctuated by thunder. The result was one giant mudpuddle.

Some fans on both sides of the bleachers conceded defeat to the weather before an official decision ever was made to play the match between the 4A Tigers and the 5A Maroon Tide. Those faithful ones who waited under umbrellas, in cars or at the concession stand, however, were rewarded with a nail-biting game in which the muddy field was as much a player as the teams were.

Chalk yard line markers soon disappeared beneath the feet of the skirmishing squads, as both teams tried to move the ball downfield in a frustrating match where first downs were cheered as heartily as a touchdown might have been, had there been any to cheer.

The game's only score came with only 19 seconds left in the first half of play. Picayune had intercepted a Tiger pass by Sam Sheppard which was intended for Xavier Lewis, and had moved the ball to the Tiger 5-yard line on a nine-play drive.

The Tide decided to go for a field goal, and Eldridge Osbin, Picayune's mountain of a tackle/linebacker, teed up the ball at the 12. His kick sailed between the uprights and put 3 on the board for Picayune.

Both teams had several other opportunities to score during the fast-paced game, but neither squad could successfully push across the goal line. Picayune did score one TD, but it was recalled on an offensive penalty.

For the Tigers, the mudcaked pigskin meant mishandled snaps galore, while the Tide players were plagued by leg cramps and minor injuries.

Tiger standouts for the season opener included QB Sheppard, Lewis, Leroy and Charles Hawkins, Wali Shabazz, Jeff Hopgood, Dwayne Antoine and Yancey Mayfield. The Maroon Tide's Osbin, Sean Glasscock, Sonny Mitchell, Chris Keys, Byron Magee, Clifton Peterson and Darian Jackson were among the main contributors to the soaking Bay High received. Tiger head coach Rocky Gau-din took the defeat philosophically.

"Tough loss," he commented. "All losses are tough, of course, but with this one, well, you know...."

He remarked to a well-wisher after the game that the field very much resembled the state of the Tiger football program when he inherited it some three years ago. However, he noted that this year marked "without a doubt the best preseason I've had with a team in 16 years of coaching."

"We knew Picayune was a tough team to play coming in, but the kids seemed to be fired up and ready to go, and they did well tonight."

"I could talk about the field and all, but I won't. Sure, we did have some trouble with the offense tonight, because we're a finesse, quick-speed team and we just couldn't get it going. But really, we just got eaten up on the line."

"It was a clean game; I was surprised that there were relatively few penalties and turnovers, considering the condition of the field."

Gaudin added that had the clock not run out, perhaps the team might have gotten a score on the board.

"The guys were looking better there the second half."

"I'm not going to say I'm satisfied with the game, because we lost. But I am satisfied with the team's effort. They did well."

The Tigers have an open date next week, then cross the bridge to Pass Christian September 10 for a matchup with the Pirates.

Tennis clinics set at Diamondhead

All levels will be divided into groups. At least three players comprise one group.

Indians thwart Hawks

Turnovers, special teams play prove costly for Hawks

A failed third quarter extra point attempt by Chris Sins and a late fourth quarter fumble by Marlon Allen proved to be costly as the Biloxi Indians got by the Hancock Hawks 14-13 Friday night at Yankie Stadium in the season opener for both teams.

The Hawks dominated in nearly all statistical categories over the Indians.

The Hawks had 14 first downs to zero for the Indians. Hancock amassed 68 yards passing while Biloxi struggled to get only four.

Playing through a scoreless first quarter, the Indians defense put up the first points of the night.

Quarterback Scotty Davis had the ball knocked loose as a result of the hit applied by Biloxi linebacker David Richter and the Indians' Kevin Felsner promptly picked up the loose ball and ran it in for the first score of the game.

With Trae Wieniewitz's PAT, the Indians pulled ahead 7-0.

Hancock then took over from their own 20 and put together an impressive 80 yard drive capped by a six yard touchdown run from Davis.

Chris Sins tacked on the extra point to tie it up 7-7.

As the third quarter began, Biloxi's Kenny Williams found the right sideline and bolted to an 88 yard kickoff return for a touchdown. With the extra point Biloxi led 14-7.

After Hancock and Biloxi traded failed possessions, the Hawks put together another solid drive.

Led by Davis (who was 8-of-12 for 68 yards), running back Lance Wedgeworth and fullback Matt Harmon, the Hawks moved the ball in 14 plays and Davis finished off the drive with an eight-yard touchdown strike to Wedgeworth.

Chris Sins' PAT attempt hooked wide left and kept the Indians on top at 14-13 and would prove to be the margin of victory for Biloxi.

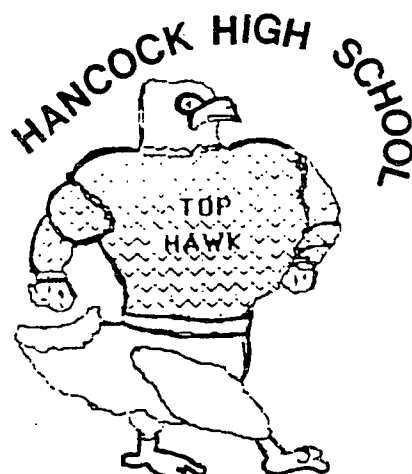

"We missed an opportunity on that extra-point to make it 14-14," said Farve.

The Hawks had another chance after Biloxi was forced to punt after five plays on their next possession.

The Hawks had made the most of their second chance, driving to the Biloxi 17 until second-down-and-six where Hancock running back Marlon Allen fumbled with the Indians' Thomas Kelly recovering, allowing Biloxi to take over with 5:33 left to play.

Farve said, "We were disappointed we didn't win because we thought we played good enough to win."

Hancock will have their first home game next Friday against George County at 7:30 p.m.

"We played very hard and very good — good enough to win, but we made some critical mistakes that really hurt us," said Coach Irvin Farve.

The Indians used special teams and defense to overcome a solid effort by the Hawks. The outcome puts the Indians at (1-0) while the Hawks begin their season (0-1).

The Hawks also dominated with their running attack, gaining 87 yards while Biloxi could only muster 36. Penalties were also in favor of the Hawks with Biloxi being flagged for a whopping 80 yards to 15 for the Hawks.

"The statistics just go to show, the scoreboard's where it counts," said Farve.

Sportsmen Against Hunger collects deer meat

Mississippi Sportsmen Against Hunger kicked off its second year program by announcing this year's goal of 50,000 pounds of deer meat for Mississippi's hungry.

"Last year we collected over 10,000 pounds of processed deer meat for Mississippi's hungry. This year our goal is 50,000 pounds — that equals 200,000 meals of low fat, high protein venison for Mississippi's hungry, many of whom are children," said T. Logan Russell, program coordinator.

The program collects cleaned and quartered deer meat from hunters and makes it available through the charities of the Mississippi Food Network. A statewide network of Collection Centers, where hunters can make their donations, is being established.

For more information call 1-800-777-5001 and tune into "ESPN Outdoors" on Saturday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 a.m. for a feature on the program.

Crazy in Alabama

Adventures in the Summer of '65

Special to the Echo
By Sherry Schwabacher
In Crazy in Alabama, Mark Childress tackles the Civil Rights Movement and the fledgling feminism of the early 1960's in parallel plot-lines that, having started together in a rural homestead in Alabama, find their culmination in the county courthouse of a small city in the same state.

Along the way, he creates some of the funniest, most memorable characters and situations to be found in American literature today.

Twelve-year-old Peejoe, short for Peter Joseph, and his older brother Wiley have lived carefree country-boys' lives with their grandmother ever since their parents died in a car accident when they were three and five.

But a sudden visit from their Aunt Lucille is about to change that life forever.

Lucille wants to be a star and when she gets a chance to go to Hollywood and be on "The Beverly Hillbillies", nothing is going to stop her -- not even the untimely death of her husband, Chester. In fact, it is Chester's opposition to Lucille's plans that kills him!

After dropping her six kids with her mother, Lucille takes off on a hilariously macabre voyage of self-discovery that leads her to true love and success as an actress. Unfortunately, a true "memento mori" -- kept in a Tupperware lettuce saver! -- leads to her capture.

Meanwhile, Peejoe and Wiley, having been displaced by the greater needs of Lucille's children, are living with their Uncle Dove in a funeral home in Industry, Alabama. This part of the book is darker and more frightening than Lucille's surprisingly light-hearted and whimsical wanderings.

It is through Peejoe's eyes that we see the terrible racial conflicts of that summer of 1965. His realization of the inherent unfairness of segregation truly moves the reader.

Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird comes to mind for a similarly effective depiction of the Southern system of Jim Crow laws seen through the eyes of a child.

And Uncle Dove is as goodhearted as Atticus Finch, but more conflicted by his growing questioning of the standards of his community -- the standards by which he has always lived.

Lucille's and Peejoe's stories come together in simultaneous trials that foreshadow both the victories and defeats in the struggle for human dignity that has dominated the last three decades of the Twentieth Century.

Childress has a way of including real people -- from a towering figure like Martin Luther King down to actor Max Baer (Jethro on "The Beverly Hillbillies") -- that makes the narrative all the more believable.

You're going to love this book. Better than that, you're going to remember it for a long, long time and be looking forward to more great novels from Mark Childress.

Crazy in Alabama, (Putnam) is available at Bookends Bookstore, BSL - Hancock Co. Library.

Lady
needs
home

Abandoned and mistreated, Lady roamed Diamondhead for at least 18 months, avoiding human touch and capture. A year ago in June my husband and I tracked the white, short-haired bird dog who would become known as "Lady" to her haunts along the Pines Golf Course.

There we fed her twice a day, there she slept on a resident's porch, but only when she was "safe" from human touch. Fear was her shield and fleetness of foot her only defense against human abuse.

Finally, over a period of eight months, John convinced her to take treats from his hand, but she would allow no hand to caress her. In February, seven puppies arrived and our Lady hid them in a beautifully engineered straw nest.

She would allow only John to approach and touch the pups. When the 1993 snow storm hit she moved her puppies to the patio of a nearby home. We were called and managed to take her puppies home to be cared for.

Poor Lady was frantic; it was time we capture her. We managed to tranquilize her four times; she escaped each time. At last the Humane officer used a tranquilizing dart and, after hours of tracking we netted a bedraggled creature. Not once in all the times this was attempted did she growl or attempt to bite. Lady spent a month in the vet's office. She has been spayed and successfully treated for heartworms. She now walks nicely on a leash.

After one month of help and human companionship with us and volunteers at our SPCA Diamondhead shelter, Lady is finally beginning to say "yes" to love, but ever in her eyes is the look to escape -- "the call of the wild," which means a certain slow death for any animal.

Will someone with a big heart and a large fenced-in yard give a loving home to this "Lady" who has won so many hearts? What we are asking and looking for is a compassionate person or couple with the time to share their love and home with gentle Lady who years for affection and a kind touch.

Teaching techniques

St. Clare teachers Barbara Worrel, Mary Gobert and Susan Simonson, share with faculty teaching techniques learned at a summer workshop, 'Developing Math Concepts,' given by Kathy Richardson at the Gulfport Media Center.

Promote healthy eating habits for children.

Children are smart "cookies" when it comes to wheedling an adult into allowing them a steady junk food diet. Parents need to control a child's eating environment to ensure healthy eating habits, says Dr. Charlotte Oakley, registered dietitian and professor of home economics at the University of Mississippi. While giving in to a child's wishes is often tempting, it is not the wise thing to do.

The same responsibilities should lie with a caretaker, and it's up to the parent to see that they also follow through. "If children eat cookies, potato chips and other snacks outside the home, they'll expect the same at home," said the dietitian.

She offers these tips to help promote wholesome eating habits:

- Maintain a positive attitude toward healthy eating. "Adults should always be favorable toward food around children," she advises.

- Say in control. A responsible parent decides the what and when of a child's eating routine. Let the child decide how much, even if it's just a taste or a few bites. If a child is not ready to eat at the appropriate time, offer the same food again when he/she is hungry.

- "Don't worry about a child starving or not getting enough to eat as long as you're offering a balanced diet of wholesome, nutritious food—they eat when they're hungry," says Oakley.

- Don't distract the child with tempting snacks loaded with sugar and fat. "You can expect trouble when you stack bags of potato chips, cookies and other tempting treats in sight," said Oakley. "The best policy is simply don't buy them."

- Allow the child to make his/her own food choices as soon as he/she is interested. The secret is to offer only wholesome, nutritious foods, says Oakley. "The child will feel in control, but you're making sure it's a win-win situation."

- Introduce new foods one at a time. From the time a baby begins to eat solids (baby food), add one new food, then wait several days before introducing another one. Besides getting used to the new taste, food allergies are more easily detected this way.

- Never add salt to a child's food. "Allow the child to learn to like the natural taste of food early on, and chances are it will pay off later in life when too much salt may present a problem."

- Reintroduce foods that a child has previously refused. Wait several days, then try the food again. Try offering a raw version of the same food that was refused cooked or vice versa. Don't try to disguise good, nutritious food, hoping a child won't recognize it.

- Finally, respect a child's individual peculiarities. Food probably doesn't taste the same to everyone, so if a child continues to refuse a certain food, it may be a taste the child just does not like.

"We have all types of fun and celebration wear and all types of jewelry at very reasonable prices," said owner Sylvia Young.

In the bridal department, Bon Temps Roule' has wedding gowns, mother of the bride and groom dresses, bridesmaids dresses, gloves, veils, hair accessories and all wedding accessories from the ring bearer's pillow to the guest book.
